WEDDING.

Davis—Twiss.
Ralph F. Davis, of Eastford, and Miss Nellie A. Twiss of Chaplin, a daughter of First Selectman and Mrs. Hiram Twiss, were united in marriage at noon Thursday by Rev. Louis M. Flocken, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, at the parsonage on Prospect street, this city. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will reside in Eastford. Both the bride and groom are well known in Eastford and Chaplin. The marriage was the climax of a romance begun in the Congregational church at Eastford, where they became acquainted as members of the church choir.

William Bowler.
The body of William Bowler, who died in Providence, R. I., Monday evening, was brought to this city on Thursday morning on the 11:10 train and taken to St. Joseph's cemetery for burial. When the body arrived there were a number of people at the station from New Haven, Colchester, Providence and this city. Mr. Bowler was 69 years old. Death was due to diseases incident to advanced years.

At the Opera House.

The Final Settlement was the attraction at the Loomer opera house Thursday evening and delighted a full-sized audience. The pleasing drama is full of interesting situations that keep an audience in constant good humor.

HARTFORD MAN TAKES TITLE.

Smiles Livingston Gets Two Falls from Rogers at W. A. C.—Good Preliminaries.

There was great enthusiasm at the Windham Athletic club Thursday evening, crowd a large crowd witnessed two preliminary boxing bouts and the main event, the welterweight match for the wrestling championship of New England. Kid Rogers and Young Sullivan, both of this city, went through two-minute rounds. Both were clever and it was an even thing. Frank McGraw, the old time boxer, ball player and well known to the crowd, acted as referee. The main event was a decidedly interesting three round boxing match. Flagg showed that he was not quite down to the pink of condition, but made his fighter more and more frisky opponent step a fast clip. This was Doyle's first appearance at the mitt game since his go with Mahoney in 1903, when Doyle took the count after a fierce ten round go. Doyle said after the bout that he don't think Jeffries can come back. Frank Dunham was referee.

The main event was a finish wrestling match between Charlie Rogers of Fall River, Mass., and Smiles Livingston of Hartford, the best two out of three falls. The go was a good one, many clever tricks being used by both contestants. It was nip and tuck for the first half hour. Smiles appeared in better condition and finally pinned Rogers to the mat with a bar-arm and chancery hold in 35 minutes flat. The second trial was even more clever and time and again Rogers broke hard holds and worried his antagonist almost to the limit.

It was clever and gentlemanly a match as has been witnessed in this city. There was steam boiling out of both contestants during the last of the struggle. Smiles at last got the clutch hold upon his man, which placed Rogers' shoulders squarely upon the mat in exactly 30 minutes, thereby winning the first half hour. Smiles appeared in better condition and finally pinned Rogers to the mat with a bar-arm and chancery hold in 35 minutes flat. The second trial was even more clever and time and again Rogers broke hard holds and worried his antagonist almost to the limit.

McGrath Against Tall Feather.

Bill Collins of Central Village challenged Smiles Livingston through Arthur B. Small for a finish match, best two out of three, and it was accepted on arrangements in about two weeks. Small also stated that every endeavor will be made to make a match with Jack McGrath of Norwich and Tall Feather, the Manitoa Indian, for next Thursday night before the local club. Mr. Rogers says the Indian will make the Irish Giant step, the public will be interested in seeing the match, and it is now up to McGrath.

LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT

Finds Favor in Bridgeport—Dates Decided Upon for Meeting.

The conference held at a Bridgeport hotel Thursday night to see whether or not Bridgeport would cooperate in the national laymen's movement, decided unanimously to do so, selecting February 26-28 as the dates when the meeting will be held. On the first day a banquet will be held with meetings in all the Protestant churches in the next day, closing with special meetings on the third day. A committee of ten has been selected to have charge of all the arrangements. It has not been decided where the mass meeting on Sunday, the second day, will be held, but it will be in the afternoon.

The conference was presided by a dinner at which there were 45 present. Judge E. K. Nicholson presided and there were remarks upon the movement by John B. Sieman, Jr., of Washington, D. C.; Rev. Dr. Patton, Boston; Rev. Dr. Witter, Boston; Rev. W. E. Gardner, Cambridge, Mass.; Rev. Fred B. Fisher, New York; Burton Mansfield, New Haven, and a number of local laymen and laywomen.—Bridgeport Telegram.

JEWETT CITY.

Cap Social Held by F. B. L.—Social at Congregational Vestry—J. A. Nelson Goes to New Bedford.

Jewett City council, No. 33, F. B. L., gave most entertaining cap social and concert, followed by refreshments, at their rooms in the Finn block on Thursday evening. The striking decorations were in bunting and the national colors. Of special attraction was the table where the caps were on sale. Each lady had made two caps just alike. There were sold indirectly after the manner of the old time apron and necktie socials. A prize offered of six embroidered handkerchiefs was offered the lady making the handsomest cap. This prize was taken by Miss Flossy Jackson.

The table was backed by a display of relics and souvenirs of the civil war, which with a tablet covered with G. A. R. medals, and a large flag, were the property of the late William Potter. There was a musket loaned by Col. John B. Gorman.

During the following attractive programme was listened to with evident pleasure by a large audience: Piano duet, by Chas. Infantele (grand piano), Kolting, by Misses Emma and Katherine Babcock; duet, Miss Grace Bicknell and Charles F. Gardner; J. Newell Knorr, reading; Parody on Mary's Little Lamb, Mrs. Charles F. Gardner; solos by Mrs. Nellie Saunders, Garden of Roses, and Put on the Old Gray Bonnet, remarks by Grand Officers Wilfred Larue of Danielson, R. McNell of New Haven, E. B. Worthington of Norwich.

During the evening there took place the installation of officers in full form by District Deputy Martin. The officers are: President, Mrs. Charles F. Gardner; vice president, Howard O'Brien; secretary, Jacob Wechsler; treasurer, Flossy Jackson; counselor, Peter Olson; guide, Lawrence Olson; guard, Ada Davis; sentry, Nelbert Myott; trustees, Mrs. Emma McBroom, A. Zeeger, Nelbert Myott. The committee in charge was Nelbert Myott, Miss Flossy Jackson and Abraham Zeeger. Those who assisted in serving were Miss Jackson, Miss Zeeger, Mrs. McBroom, Miss Myott, Exilda Suloway and Peter Olson.

HEARTS THE DECORATIONS

At Social Arranged by Officers and Directresses of Ladies' Society.

Thursday evening the officers and directresses of the Ladies' society of the Congregational church entertained the members of the society and their husbands and sweethearts at a social in the church vestry. As this is the month of hearts, the color was red, the posts being tinged in the color. Streamers were gracefully arranged above the tables and over the platform. In the center above the platform a large heart was suspended. The napkins at each table were carefully folded, each one bearing a tiny heart. Red carnations adorned the tables. Sandwiches, cake, coffee and ice cream were served. Last being in fancy heart-shaped dishes. Misses Pearl and Mary Gane, Jessie McNicol, Marian Paul, Marguerite Bliss and Dorothy Burdick waited upon the guests. Dr. W. H. Gane gave a fine toast in honor of the ladies and Miss E. C. Bliss returned the compliments with an equally happy toast to the gentlemen. To add to the pleasure, selections were rendered on the phonograph belonging to A. F. Shaw. There was a solo, because of the singing by Miss Mabel A. Young, accompanied by Miss Irene Young; reading, The Ladies' Aid Society, by Mrs. George W. Robinson; the Flower Song, from Faust, sung by Mrs. F. S. Leonard; reading, My Valentine, by Mrs. E. A. Faust; a duet, Come With Me, sung by Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Ealloo. A social hour closed the evening.

Promotion for J. A. Nelson.

J. A. Nelson, master mechanic for the Ashland Cotton company is to leave Jewett City, his resignation taking place some time next week. He goes to New Bedford, where a larger salary and larger opportunities as chief electrical and steam engineer await him. Mr. Nelson took the place formerly held by William G. Dyer. He has made good in every particular and receives the highest recommendation from his superiors.

Demented Man From Norwich.

Late Thursday afternoon it was rumored that an insane man was on his way from Norwich to Jewett City, having been seen by several trolley men coming this way on the railroad track. The man is a resident of Norwich, where he was somewhat demented. His father came to Jewett City on a late trolley, but could find no trace of his son, he having evidently left the track south of the borough. It was said that when last seen he had no pistol, as reported here. Local officers and Norwich officers are on the watch for him.

Burial of William Littlefield.

News reached the borough Thursday evening of the recent death of William Littlefield, who was buried at Oneco Thursday. Mr. Littlefield was for many years a resident of Greenwich, where he engaged in farming and in several other business enterprises. He leaves his wife and several children. Mrs. Oscar Campbell of the borough is his daughter.

Aged Food.

According to the New York papers, meat, fish, eggs, poultry, etc., from seven months to three years old have been sold in that city as fresh goods and at prices far in advance of the cost. Such food may be all right, but for a steady diet it doesn't seem as if it could produce the best results. Here is a question for experts: Is such food healthy and should dealers be permitted to put it on the market?—New Britain Herald.

It has been estimated that there are 20,000 tons of radium in the sea.
